

Mrs. W. C. Keith Hostess At Bridge Party For Miss Pedigo, Of Beaumont

By OLIVE P. LANDSEN.

MRS. WILLIAM C. KEITH is entertaining with one of the season's smartest social affairs this afternoon, a bridge party, in compliment to her guest, Miss Adeline Pedigo, of Beaumont. Mrs. Keith, also of Beaumont, has been wintering in El Paso.

Mrs. Keith's courtesy to her guest is being given at the Teller clubhouse, where the drawing room with its hangings and furnishings of olive green, is fragrant with perfume and sweet peas in lovely rose shades. The blossoms are unobtrusive on the mantel, on cabinets and in the windows. A great bouquet of sweet peas in rose shades will be given as a prize at each card table, and the

El Paso Nurses Are Accorded Honors At Convention Of State Association

MRS. A. LOUISE DETHMUN and Miss Emily Dina Green, of St. Mark's hospital, have returned from Austin, where they attended the meeting of the Texas Graduate Nurses' association. Miss Dietrich will serve the association as secretary-treasurer this year.

A legislative committee was appointed on which both Miss Dietrich and Miss Green were placed, and this committee will draw up and present to the next legislature an amendment to the nurses' registration law. Miss Dietrich also gave a report of the annual meeting at Atlanta, Ga. Miss Dietrich gave a talk telling how every phase of nursing life was touched by politics. She told of the necessity of more money for schools and urged nurses to make themselves responsible in part for the 10,000 children in the state who are not in schools, urging every nurse to influence friends and parents to vote for amendment to the constitution to be voted on in July.

A session of the League of Nursing Education was also held and Miss Dietrich was placed on its publicity committee. The public health department was also interesting and a map in the capital showed El Paso marked by green pins, which signified there were no public health nurses there.

The Daughters of the British Empire on Wednesday afternoon will hold a drawing room sale and in the evening of that date will give a benefit card party. Refreshments will be served at each function. The drawing room street having been begun, the place of the sale, as first announced to take place at the home of Mrs. Lawrence, 1212 S. Arizona street, has been changed to the home of Mrs. Lawrence, 1212 S. Arizona street. The proceeds of the sale will be given to the maintenance of a hospital bed for mutilated soldiers.

The meeting of the Guild of St. Clement's Episcopal church has been postponed from Tuesday at 3 o'clock to Wednesday at the same hour. The meeting will be held at the parish house. Many questions of importance will be discussed and an election of officers for the year has been planned. The organization for the work of the organization for the year.

Post Swimming Pool Proves Popular; Town Girls Go Out For Splash Party

THE swimming pool at Fort Bliss has opened for the season and is proving a boon during the first warm summer days. Numbers of swimming parties will be given from time to time the coming season.

The warm weather, which has been so long in coming this year, is taking many El Pasoans for motor parties and outings. The golf course in the upper valley, with its clubhouse for a gathering place, is proving one of the most interesting outings for the season.

CIGAR PRICES ADVANCE Boston, Mass., May 14.—Cigars are going up—not only in smoke—but in price.

The smokers' favorite weed costs from 5 to 10 percent more in most of Boston's tobacco stores. The reason given for the advance is that cigars have jumped 12 per thousand and that the price of tobacco has crept upward along with the cost of labor and cigar boxes.

No longer will one be able to buy the brand of cheroot which sold in the old days for three for a quarter at 15 cents each, or three for 35 cents. They now cost 11 cents straight. The cheaper cigars, however, did not advance in price.

Quarantine was first established against infectious diseases in the 16th century.
